TO OUR FRIENDS, PARTNERS, AND ASSOCIATES

Over the past months we have all had to experience the fallout of a terrible pandemic, that continues to put our lives, families, and jobs, in a state of uncertainty.

Through this we continue to make the necessary adjustments in our schedules to try to gain some normalcy in our day to day world.

With that, we must put forward an ever-conscious effort to exercise good and safe social practices in order to maintain a healthy standing until a resolution to this pandemic becomes available.

Our LPM team continues to bring new, innovative, and expanded safety practices and programs into all the facilities that we operate.

This is to ensure that when you visit with us now, or when you are ready to return, you can feel confident that you are in a safe and secure environment.

We remain committed to providing great quality offerings and services in an atmosphere that gives all our customers a true sense of foodservice safety and satisfaction.

As we all look forward to better days ahead, and putting these very stressful days behind us, please know that we will be there anxiously waiting to make your experiences with us outstanding and memorable.

Until then, please stay safe and healthy, and we will see you real soon!
